Nature of Operations and Continuance of Business

1. Nature of Operations and Continuance of Business

The Company was incorporated in the State of Delaware on July 1, 2005 as Golden Century Technologies Corp. and changed its name to Golden Century Resources Limited on September 8, 2009. The Company is a Development Stage Company, as defined by Financial Accounting Standards Board ("FASB") Accounting Standards Codification ("ASC") 915, Development Stage Entities. The Company is based in Wilmington, Delaware, and its principal business is the production and distribution of Flushable Colostomy and Ostomy Pouch Liners (the "Liners") for colostomy and ostomy patients. The Company has entered into two agreements with Colo-Majic Liners, Inc. ("Colo-Majic"), the inventor of the Liner product. The first agreement is to supply the Liner products to the North American market, and the second agreement is to manufacture, market and distribute the Liner product in the People's Republic of China.

On August 12, 2009, the Company entered into a Letter of Intent with JinXin Copper Holding Limited ("JinXin"), a British Virgin Island corporation that owns 62% of Nanjiang Long Du Mining Industrial Limited Corporation ("Long Du"). Long Du is incorporated in Sichuan Province in the People's Republic of China and owns a prospecting permit of the Yang Tan Gold Mine ("Yang Tan"). Pursuant to the Letter of Intent, the Company intends to acquire all the rights to Yang Tan owned by JinXin. In accordance with the Letter of Intent, the Company agreed to pay a total of $1,000,000 to JinXin as a deposit to be used only for expenses relating to the application for the government exploitation permit for Yang Tan. On August 15, 2009, the Company paid $500,000 to JinXin. On December 18, 2009, the Company entered into a Letter of Agreement with JinXin pursuant to which the Company paid the remaining deposit of $500,000. During fiscal 2011 further payments totaling $460,000 were made to JinXin to cover additional expenses relating to the government exploitation permit. Upon closing, the Company will issue from treasury and deliver to JinXin a yet to be determined amount of common shares of the Company's capital stock, and pay any additional consideration that is agreed to be paid as part of the consideration in the Definitive Agreement as described in the Letter of Agreement. The amounts paid will be refunded to the Company in the event that the Definitive Agreement is not signed. Mining exploration will be another principal business of the Company upon executing the Definitive Agreement. The Definitive Agreement has not closed as at October 13,

These financial statements have been prepared on a going concern basis, which implies the Company will continue to realize its assets and discharge its liabilities in the normal course of business. The Company's planned principal activities have commenced, but the Company is still in the early stage of development. In a development stage company, management devotes most of its activities to developing a market for its products and services. The Company has generated minimal revenue and has not paid dividends, and is unlikely to pay dividends or generate significant earnings in the immediate or foreseeable future. The continuation of the Company as a going concern is dependent upon the continued financial support from its shareholders, the ability of the Company to obtain necessary equity financing to continue operations, and the attainment of profitable operations. As at June 30, 2011, the Company has a working capital deficit of $923,407 and accumulated losses of $2,725,182 since inception. These factors raise substantial doubt regarding the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. These financial statements do not include any adjustments to the recoverability and classification of recorded asset amounts and classification of liabilities that might be necessary should the Company be unable to continue as a going concern.

As at June 30, 2011 the Company had cash of $25,488 on hand. Management's plan is to continue raising additional funds through future equity or debt financings until it achieves profitable operations from its production and sale activities. Management estimates that it will require additional financing of approximately $750,000 to $1,500,000 over the next twelve months for production of the Liner products, marketing campaigns, mining operation and administrative costs. There is no assurance that the Company will be able to raise sufficient cash to fund its future exploration programs and operational expenditures.

Summary of Significant Accounting Principles

2. Summary of Significant Accounting Principles

a) Basis of Presentation

These financial statements and related notes are presented in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States, and are expressed in US dollars. The Company's fiscal year-end is June 30.

b) Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with US generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. The Company regularly evaluates estimates and assumptions related to stock-based compensation and deferred income tax asset valuation allowances. The Company bases its estimates and assumptions on current facts, historical experience and various other factors that it believes to be reasonable under the circumstances, the results of which form the basis for making judgments about the carrying values of assets and liabilities and the accrual of costs and expenses that are not readily apparent from other sources. The actual results experienced by the Company may differ materially and adversely from the Company's estimates. To the extent there are material differences between the estimates and the actual results, future results of operations will be affected.

c) Cash and Cash Equivalents

The Company considers all highly liquid instruments with maturities of three months or less at the time of issuance to be cash equivalents.

d) Inventory

Inventory is determined on a first-in, first-out basis and is stated at the lower of cost or market. Market is determined based on the net realizable value, with appropriate consideration given to excessive levels, future demand and other factors. The Company did not have any inventory as of June 30, 2011 and 2010.

e) Basic and Diluted Net Income (Loss) per Share

The Company computes net earnings (loss) per share in accordance with ASC 260, Earnings Per Share ("ASC 260"). ASC 260 requires presentation of both basic and diluted earnings per share ("EPS") on the face of the income statement. Basic EPS is computed by dividing net earnings (loss) available to common shareholders (numerator) by the weighted average number of shares outstanding (denominator) during the period. Diluted EPS gives effect to all dilutive potential common shares outstanding during the period using the treasury stock method and convertible preferred stock using the if-converted method. In computing diluted EPS, the average stock price for the period is used in determining the number of shares assumed to be purchased from the exercise of stock options or warrants. Diluted EPS excludes all dilutive potential shares if their effect is anti dilutive.

f) Comprehensive Loss

ASC 220, Comprehensive Income establishes standards for the reporting and display of comprehensive loss and its components in the financial statements. As at June 30, 2011 and 2010, the Company has no items that represent other comprehensive loss and, therefore, has not included a schedule of comprehensive loss in the financial statements.

g) Financial Instruments and Risk

The Company's financial instruments consist principally of cash, accounts payable and due to related parties. Pursuant to ASC 820, Fair Value Measurements and Disclosures and ASC 825, Financial Instruments the fair value of our cash equivalents is determined based on "Level 1" inputs, which consist of quoted prices in active markets for identical assets. We believe that the recorded values of all of our other financial instruments approximate their current fair values because of their nature and respective relatively short maturity dates or durations.

Concentrations:

Financial instruments which potentially subject the Company to a concentration of credit risk consist primarily of cash. The Company deposits cash with a high quality financial institution.

Foreign Currency Risk:

The Company undertakes certain transactions in Canadian dollars, Hong Kong dollars and Chinese Renminbi and as such is subject to risk due to fluctuations in exchange rates. The Company does not use derivative instruments to hedge exposure to foreign currency risk.

h) Income Taxes

Potential benefits of income tax losses are not recognized in the accounts until realization is more likely than not. The Company has adopted ASC 740, Income Taxes as of its inception. Pursuant to ASC 740 the Company is required to compute tax asset benefits for net operating losses carried forward. The potential benefits of net operating losses have not been recognized in these financial statements because the Company cannot be assured it is more likely than not it will utilize the net operating losses carried forward in future years.

i) Foreign Currency Translation

The Company's functional and reporting currency is the United States dollar. Occasional transactions may occur in Canadian dollars, Hong Kong dollars, and Chinese Renminbi and management has adopted ASC 830, Foreign Currency Translation Matters. Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated using the exchange rate prevailing at the balance sheet date. Non-monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated at rates of exchange in effect at the date of the transaction. Average monthly rates are used to translate revenues and expenses. Gains and losses arising on translation or settlement of foreign currency denominated transactions or balances are included in the determination of income.

j) Mineral Property Costs

The Company has recently engaged in the acquisition, exploration and development of mineral properties. Mineral property acquisition costs are capitalized when management has determined that probable future benefits consisting of a contribution to future cash inflows have been identified and adequate financial resources are available or are expected to be available as required to meet the terms of property acquisition and budgeted exploration and development expenditures. Mineral property acquisition costs are expensed as incurred if the criteria for capitalization are not met. In the event that a mineral property is acquired through the issuance of the Company's shares, the mineral property will be recorded at the fair value of the respective property or the fair value of common shares, whichever is more readily determinable.

When mineral properties are acquired under option agreements with future acquisition payments to be made at the sole discretion of the Company, those future payments, whether in cash or shares, are recorded only when the Company has made or is obliged to make the payment or issue the shares. When it has been determined that a mineral property can be economically developed as a result of establishing proven and probable reserves and bankable feasibility, the costs incurred to develop such property are capitalized.

k) Revenue Recognition

Revenues consist of the sale of the plastic liners and are recognized only when the price is fixed or determinable, persuasive evidence of an arrangement exists, the products shipped, and collectability is reasonably assured.

The Company continually monitors timely payments and assesses any collection issues regarding accounts receivable. At the time of sale, any significant customer accounts that are not expected to be collected are excluded from revenues.

l) Stock-based Compensation

In accordance with ASC 718, Compensation – Stock Based Compensation, and ASC 505, Equity Based Payments to Non-Employees, the Company accounts for share-based payments using the fair value method. The Company has not issued any stock options since its inception. Common shares issued to third parties for non-cash consideration are valued based on the fair market value of the services provided or the fair market value of the common stock on the measurement date, whichever is more readily determinable.

m) Recent Accounting Pronouncements

In January 2010, the FASB issued ASU No. 2010-06, Improving Disclosures about Fair Value Measurements, which amends the ASC Topic 820, Fair Value Measurements and Disclosures. ASU No. 2010-06 amends the ASC to require disclosure of transfers into and out of Level 1 and Level 2 fair value measurements, and also requires more detailed disclosure about the activity within Level 3 fair value measurements. The new disclosures and clarifications of existing disclosures are effective for interim and annual reporting periods beginning after December 15, 2009, except for the disclosures concerning purchases, sales, issuances, and settlements in the roll forward of activity in Level 3 fair value measurements. Those disclosures are effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2010, and for interim periods within those fiscal years. The adoption of this amendment did not have a material effect on the Company's financial statements.

The Company has implemented all new accounting pronouncements that are in effect and that may impact its financial statements and does not believe that there are any other new accounting pronouncements that have been issued that might have a material impact on its financial position or results of operations.

The entire disclosure for all significant accounting policies of the reporting entity.
